ADvancing States Publishes Ideas to Help During Times of Social Isolation

ADvancing States has been collecting ideas and activities on how to address social isolation for older adults during the COVID-19 crisis. The document combines the responses received thus far. Please continue to submit state, CBO, and facility activities to ADvancing States so that we may update this document accordingly. It is a privilege to share this important information with others across the country. While the document is meant to provide ideas for older adults, they can be applicable to other people as well.
