

REHABILITATION & COMMUNITY
PROVIDERS ASSOCIATION

Email Blast

NADSP Announces Webinars for Direct Support Professionals

PART FOUR: UPDATE

|Friday | May 1 | 1:00 PM EST | Webinar

Featuring: Rick Rader, MD

www.nadsp.org/events

Role of the DSP and The Coronavirus: Part Four

Friday, May 1, 1:00 PM EST

We are grateful for the guidance and recommendations from NADSP Medical Adviser, Dr. Rick Rader in our last few webinars. Please join Dr. Rader again in May for a brief update on developments since the previous webinar on April 3rd, 2020 on how Direct Support Professionals can support people with disabilities during this pandemic. To download the Q &A answers from the latest COVID-19 webinar, click here. To register for Dr. Rader's next webinar, click the "Register Here" button below.

Register here

LET'S TALK WITH DAVE HINGSBURGER

HUMBLE PIE

Featuring: Roger Ramsukh

MAY 7 | 2:00 PM EST | Webinar

NADSP.ORG/EVENTS

Let's Talk with Dave Hingsburger

Humble Pie
May 7th | 2PM EST

In this month's Let's Talk with Dave, Dave Hingsburger is joined by Roger Ramsukh for a lively discussion on self awareness, leadership and human resilience. This webinar is a companion of this month's issue of the International Journal of Direct Support Professionals written by Roger Ramsukh. In Roger's article, he provides a follow-up to the November 2018 article 'Staying buoyant while under attack: Dealing with racism and other personal attacks while supporting people with intellectual disabilities'. You can read the latest issue of the International Journal for Direct Support Professionals by clicking here.

To register for the webinar, click the "Learn More" button below.

Learn More