James is also a graduate of Highmark Health's Higher Mark leadership development program, sponsored by the Wharton School of Business, and the inaugural class of Carnegie Mellon University Tepper School of Business and The Advanced Leadership Institute (TALI) Executive Leadership Academy. Additionally, he holds a certificate from Northwestern University's Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Program.

In addition to serving on the Pittsburgh Mercy Board of Directors, James serves on the boards of Buffalo, New York-based Evans Bancorp (NYSE American: EVBN), the National Association for Corporate Directors (Three Rivers Chapter), The Pittsburgh Opera, Sewickley Academy, and Kappa Scholarship Endowment Fund of Western PA.

James resides in Moon Township, Pa.

Sister Diane Matje, RSM, RN, MSN

Sister Diane Matje, RSM, RN, MSN, is a member of the Pittsburgh Sisters of Mercy. Consistent with the tradition of Catherine McAuley, founder of the Sisters of Mercy, Sister Diane has dedicated over six decades of her life in ministry and service to others, first in education and then later in health care. Sister Diane started her career as a teacher in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia and the Diocese of Allentown.

She earned her Associate Degree in Nursing (AND) and Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree at Gwynedd Mercy University. Following graduation, she worked for 10 years at Misericordia Hospital in Philadelphia. She moved to Pittsburgh in 1980. Sister Diane completed her Master of Science in Nursing degree in oncology at the University of Pittsburgh while working at The Mercy Hospital of Pittsburgh (known today as UPMC Mercy hospital). Following graduation, she worked as an oncology nurse practitioner, working directly with persons and families affected by cancer.

As a former direct caregiver and a subject matter expert on palliative care, end-of-life, and ethics issues, she used her experience to establish the Mercy Hospital Palliative Care Program. She served as the program's first full-time director. Sister Diane later served as a trainer and consultant to many health care professionals and organizations.

In 2005, the Pennsylvania Secretary of Aging invited Sister Diane to serve on the Commonwealth's first Quality at the End-of-Life Committee. In 2006, Pittsburgh Mercy Health System recognized Sister Diane with the Frances Warde Commendation for Excellence Award. That same year, the Oncology Nursing Society of Greater Pittsburgh awarded her the Joseph W. Schaefer Award for Volunteer Service in Oncology Nursing. Sister Diane has also served as the health services director at the Sisters of Mercy in Pittsburgh. From 2013-2019, Sister Diane served as a clinical volunteer at Pittsburgh Mercy Family Health Center in South Side and as a spiritual care volunteer at Outlook Manor in West Mifflin and Garden View Manor in Wilkinsburg, two Pittsburgh Mercy residential programs that serve adults who have complex mental health challenges and intellectual and developmental disabilities.

Prior to joining the Pittsburgh Mercy Board of Directors, Sister Diane served three consecutive, three-year terms on the McAuley Ministries Foundation's Board of Directors. McAuley Ministries is Pittsburgh Mercy's grant-making foundation. It awards an average of $3.5 million in grants annually to organizations that serve the Hill District, Uptown, and West Oakland communities in Pittsburgh. During her second and third terms, she served as board secretary.

Sister Diane resides in Wilkins Township, Pa.

Manzoor Mohideen, PhD

Manzoor Mohideen, PhD, is director of clinical research operations in the benign hematology section of the Division of Hematology/Oncology in the Department of Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh where he does clinical research and directs several clinical research trials targeting sickle cell disease (SCD) and other benign hematology diseases. Mohideen oversees the creation and maintenance of regulatory documents; clinical trial data collection, entry, and integrity; the team's handling of protected health information; liaison with study sponsors; budgeting; and institutional review board (IRB) approvals. Additionally, he maintains the integrity of the informed consent process in clinical trials and ensures compliance with state, federal, and FDA regulations.

Throughout his professional career, Mohideen has held roles as a biomedical researcher, clinical researcher, and as an independent consultant. He was co-founder, vice president, and director of research operations for Diascopic, LLC; director of biomedical technology for Interscopic Analysis, LLC; and a consultant on biomedical and health care issues for Pervasive Health Solutions, three biomedical technology solution companies based in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mohideen also has held numerous teaching and/or research positions at the University of Pittsburgh; Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine; Harvard University Medical School; Iowa State University; York University in Toronto, Canada; Tamil Nadu Agricultural Sciences in Tuticorin, India; and the University of Agricultural Sciences in Bangalore, India.

Mohideen is a board director as well as a member of the board finance committee at Jefferson Regional Foundation and has been volunteering for six years at Jubilee Kitchen in Uptown Pittsburgh. He is also former member of the board of review for Boy Scouts of America Troop 810 in Cleveland.

Mohideen resides in Jefferson Hills, Pa.
