

Medicaid Matters

A Community Forum

This community-focused advocacy forum brings together experts and stakeholders to discuss the local impact of federal funding cuts to Medicaid, particularly on vulnerable populations and essential services.

Moderated by Chip Minemyer, publisher of The Tribune-Democrat

Panelists include:

- James J. Cook, FACHE, executive director of Cambria Residential Services
- Rosalie Danchanko, executive director of the Highlands Health Clinic
- Jeannine McMillan, executive director of the Center for Population Health
- Karen Struble Myers, president & CEO of the United Way of the Southern Alleghenies
- Jason Riligio, advocate for mental health and substance use recovery & certified community health worker

Cosponsored by the American Democracy Scholars Program at UPJ
& Locals For Good (LFG)

Find more info:
lfgpa.org

MONDAY, APRIL 21 | 6:30 PM
JOHN P. MURTHA CENTER AT PITT-JOHNSTOWN
450 Schoolhouse Rd. Johnstown 15904 • lfgpa13@gmail.com