

FACT: People with disabilities are at higher risk in an emergency.

Do you have the tools you need for inclusive planning and effective communication?

Please take our Emergency Needs
Survey

(tinyurl.com/disaprep)

The Institute on Disabilities works to teach individuals, families and providers about emergency preparedness in a way that addresses their personal circumstances and support needs. We also work with public health and emergency professionals to address gaps at a community level.

Your input helps us plan effective outreach and training!

Please consider participating in a short survey about Emergency Preparedness Needs for Pennsylvanians with disabilities.

College of Education and Human Development

Institute on Disabilities

Learn more about the Institute's emergency preparedness program:
<https://disabilities.temple.edu/eprep>